

Summary of ILRS 19th Workshop Station Clinic
Friday October 31, 2014 Annapolis Maryland USA
Interleaving and Real-Time NPT Monitoring
G. Appleby

The clinic went well and each session ran the entire allocated time span.

All attendees were interested and engaged, which indicated that the earlier ten-minute overview was necessary as an advert to what each of the attendees wanted to talk about in more detail.

With those small groups, it was easy to show pictures etc., on the laptop and allowed for an informal two-way exchange of information.
